— 2025 —

These Constitutional Amendments are the amendments proposed by the National Executive Board and by Unifor local unions that have been submitted to the National Secretary-Treasurer in accordance with the process in Article 6.C.1 of our Constitution. Some proposed amendments have been edited to improve readability or to add clarity.

All Constitutional Amendments will be reviewed by a Constitution Committee which will recommend concurrence or non-concurrence. That Committee may work with local unions to improve their proposed amendments.

Errors and omissions are subject to correction.

ARTICLE 4: CODE OF ETHICS AND DEMOCRATIC PRACTICES

ARTICLE 4: CODE OF ETHICS AND DEMOCRATIC PRACTICES

- 4.20 If it is believed that a violation of this Code of Ethics has taken place or is taking place, a signed letter of complaint may be sent to the President with specific allegations describing how the Code of Ethics has been violated. This practice may be used when the person making the complaint does not wish to make a charge under this Constitution, or the circumstances of the matter give rise to concerns with respect to confidentiality.
- 4.21 The President shall deal promptly with any complaint alleging a violation of the Code of Ethics. Unless the complaint constitutes a charge under the constitution, the President shall investigate the matter in a confidential manner that respects the rights of all parties taking into account the principles of natural justice.
- 4.22 If the complaint is deemed by the President to be an acceptable charge as per Article 18 Section C the matter shall be considered a violation of the constitution subject to the procedures and appeals in Article 18.

CHANGE TO:

- 4.20 If a member believes that a violation of this Code of Ethics by another member has taken place or is taking place, the member can make a charge against the other member. The member shall use the processes in Articles 18.C or Article 18.D to make the charge.
- 4.21 If a member believes that a violation of the Code of Ethics by another member has taken place or is taking place, and the member wishes to make a confidential complaint and not a charge, the member can send a signed letter of complaint to the President with specific allegations describing how the Code of Ethics has been violated by the other member.
- 4.21.1 If a confidential complaint is about the conduct of the President, the member shall send the signed letter of complaint to another National Officer. The National Officer that receives the complaint shall inform the other National Officer unless that National Officer is also a subject of the complaint. The National Officer that receives the complaint shall then carry out the investigation responsibilities as described below.
- 4.21.2 If a confidential complaint is about the conduct of all three National Officers, the member may send the signed letter of complaint to all members of the National Executive Board which shall meet and decide whether to investigate the complaint.
- 4.21.3 The President or other National Officer shall deal promptly with a confidential complaint by investigating it or by directing an investigation. The investigation shall to the extent possible be confidential, fair, and respectful of the rights of all parties. The President or other National Officer can decline to investigate a confidential complaint if it would be more appropriately dealt with as a charge under Article 18.C or 18.D. The President or other National Officer can also decline to investigate a complaint that is frivolous or vexatious; or when the matter complained of appears to be trivial, or where the matter has been adequately addressed in a different way.

- 4.21.4 Except where a complaint is about a member of the National Executive Board, the President after investigating a confidential complaint shall decide if the Code of Ethics has been contravened and shall decide how to deal with a contravention which may include any of the things listed in Article 18.C.7. The procedures and appeals in Article 18.C apply to the decisions.
- 4.21.5 In the case of a confidential complaint about the President or other member of the National Executive Board, the President or other National Officer after investigating a confidential complaint shall determine whether the member appears to have contravened the Code of Ethics. If the President or other National Officer finds that the Code of Ethics appears to have been contravened, the National Executive Board shall deal with the matter. The National Executive Board shall decide whether the member has contravened the Code of Ethics. The processes in Article 18.D.5 shall apply to the decision. The National Executive Board shall then decide how to deal with a contravention which may include any of the things listed in Article 18.D.6. The procedures and appeals in Article 18.D apply to its decisions.

ARTICLE 7 – NATIONAL EXECUTIVE BOARD

ARTICLE 7: NATIONAL EXECUTIVE BOARD - A: COMPOSITION OF THE NATIONAL EXECUTIVE BOARD

INDUSTRY COUNCIL REPRESENTATIVES

19. The National Executive Board shall include 11 Industry Council representatives, selected from nominations by Industry Councils.
20. Industry Council representatives on the National Executive Board shall be elected by a secret ballot majority vote or other secure confidential voting system on a per capita basis of the Canadian Council, based on nominations by Industry Council and recommendations to the Canadian Council by the National Executive Board. The National Executive Board will receive nominations from the Industry Councils reasonably in advance of a Canadian Council meeting and present recommendations to meet the gender, regional and industry representation expressed in this constitution. All such recommendations will be mutually agreed with the appropriate Industry Council.
21. Industry Council representatives shall be elected by a secret ballot majority vote or other secure confidential voting system on a per capita basis. The Industry Council representatives shall take the oath of office and be installed after they are elected at the Founding Convention.
22. Elections for the Industry Council representatives shall take place at the Canadian Council following every Convention and shall be for a term of three years.
23. In the event of a vacancy in the position of Industry Council Representative, the National Executive Board, in consultation with the respective Industry Council, shall select an interim representative who shall serve until the next Canadian Council meeting at which time an election shall occur.

CHANGE TO:

19. The National Executive Board shall include 11 Industry Council Representatives with voice and vote and Additional Industry Council Representatives with voice only.
20. Industry Council Representatives and Additional Industry Council Representatives on the National Executive Board shall be elected for a term of three years by the Canadian Council at its meeting in the year after each Convention.
21. Each candidate for Industry Council Representative must be nominated by an established Industry Council. Each Industry Council may, at least 30 days before the opening of Canadian Council, submit the name of one nominated candidate for election as Industry Council Representative. The Board will then recommend and submit for approval of delegates 11 candidates that collectively achieve the gender, regional and industry representation requirements expressed in this Constitution. If the recommendation is approved, the 11 recommended candidates shall be declared elected as the Industry Council Representatives.

- 21.1. If the 11 candidates recommended by the Board are not approved by Canadian Council, an election of all nominated candidates shall be conducted. The election shall be a secret ballot vote or other secure and confidential voting system on a per capita basis of the Canadian Council. The 11 candidates that obtain the greatest per capita support in the election shall be declared elected as Industry Council Representatives.
 - 21.2. After the approval by Canadian Council of the Board's recommended 11 candidates, or after an election, all remaining nominated candidates shall be recognized as Additional Industry Council representatives with the right to participate fully as members of the National Executive Board with voice and no vote.
 22. The Industry Council representatives and Additional Industry Council representatives shall take the oath of office and be installed after they are elected.
 23. In the event of a vacancy in the position of Industry Council Representative or Additional Industry Council Representative, the National Executive Board shall consult with the relevant Industry Council to select a replacement who shall take the oath and be installed and serve for the remainder of the term.

ARTICLE 2: STATEMENT OF PRINCIPLES – 11. GENDER AND EQUITY

11. Unifor is fully committed to equity and inclusion. Women, Black, Indigenous and Workers of Colour, Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual and Transgender Workers, Young Workers, Workers with Disabilities and other Equity seeking groups, will be represented in the structures of the union at all levels. In certain articles the constitution provides specific provisions which detail how women and equity groups participate in the leadership structures of the union. Elsewhere the commitment is expressed as a more general one. Where the commitment is a general one it requires those with the necessary authority and responsibility to address the issue. When By-Laws of all bodies in the unions are submitted to the National Executive Board for approval they will be viewed through this gender and equity lens.

ARTICLE 2 – STATEMENT OF PRINCIPLES

ARTICLE 2: STATEMENT OF PRINCIPLES – 12. UNION RENEWAL AND GENERATIONAL CHANGE

12. The strength and dynamism of Unifor, at all levels, is based on union renewal. How the structures and practices of the union evolve over time; how the union is open to and receives new ideas, and how the union renews its leadership by making space for the next generation.

Generational change is essential for union renewal. As such it is the expectation and desire of the union that all national officers, regional directors, local union officers and staff voluntarily retire from their position at age 65 or before.
